

COLLEGE OF NURSING, KHAMIS MUSHAIT

Knowledge and Understanding:

K1: Demonstrate understanding of the foundational principles, theories, and concepts that lead nursing practice, in addition to those of the medical, social, and behavioral sciences.

K1: Comprehend the appropriate nursing care for all patients along the life span at different healthcare settings informed by current developments in the nursing profession.

Skills:

S1: Apply evidence-based decision-making and critical thinking while administering safe and high-quality care to communities, families, and individuals.

S2: Conduct scientific research or scholarly work by analyzing, investigating, interpreting, critiquing, and sharing the results.

S3: Perform essential nursing procedures safely and appropriately on various patients and families throughout their lives, taking into account the best available evidence regarding the communities' cultures and belief.

S4: Formulate a plan of care for patients with different health disorders based on their health needs.

S5: Communicate professionally with intra-professional team, patients, and community members using digital information and various communication modalities.

Values, Autonomy, and Responsibility

V1: Adhere to safety, ethics, regulations and rules of nursing practice, and quality nursing care concepts in a variety of healthcare settings.

V2: Manage nursing procedures and activities in a professional, autonomous, and accountable manner.